Dear Mr Morgan

My wife asked me the other day what she could buy me for Christmas, and jokingly I said an Ipod, we had a laugh when I said that because we are both on pension and we certainly could not afford to spend that kind of money on a present, or anything else for that matter.

So I was wondering, as certain members of the Welsh Assembly are spending tax payers money, of which I am one, on anything and everything, instead of using money out of their obscene salary and expenses, would it be possible for the Welsh Assembly to buy me an Ipod.

I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Yours faithfully

Fred Wilding
